As you can see the names don't match up to the photo. AARP advises we should all keep our minds active and challenge ourselves. So here is the challenge. Match up the names with the faces and send the list to me at bk4849@comcast.net and the first one who gets it right I will pay for their lunch for the February luncheon. If you don't have a computer, bring your results to the luncheon; you still may be the first to get it right!
